Eksempler på fritekst – med tilhørende bedømmelser

Karakteren A (bestået)

"The direction told me to just describe, so i'll do just that.

There's a Man in the picture. He seems troubled as he goes through newspaper advertisements. He seems to be in his home, seeing that there are several clues, such as the cup in the table, the microwave, food behind him and the clutter of dishwashes. He's wearing black shirt and black hat, can't see the lower half, so i'm not going to just guess. He has bit of moustache and is holding a royal blue pen."

"It seems to me that he is looking for job. He has either been fired, quitted his job, is unhappy with his current job or just doesn't have found the job where he's good at. In the case of the first two, he could have trouble or misunderstanding with his boss or superior and over time escalate to him being fired or he quit. Being unhappy with his current job shows that his colleagues, superiors or boss is giving him trouble, such as insulting him, ostracise him or generally being mean. On a lighter note, it could also be that he hasn't found the workplace that he's good at. He has a talent for a specific thing and just hasn't found the workplace that let him use that specific talent.

Whatever the case may be, there are several things to note. First is respect your fellow human, or at least tolerate them, because we are all in the same boat named Earth. And human population keep increasing and increasing. If we don't tolerate or respect our fellow human we're gonna have big trouble in the future if population just increases and borders comes closer and closer.

The second is find the job you're good at and will be happy to do every day. Since there are many jobs, finding what you want might be tough because there are also other people wanting them. So pick what you do best and do your best to impress them. And work hard in keeping the job. Who knows? Maybe you become the big boss man or woman in the future.

Karakteren B (bestået)

"On the picture is there a man who is maybe writing something on the newspaper. There are a couple of newspapers on the table. And there is a microwave on the kitchen table, and a bottle, and some bowls. It looks like that he is drinking a cup of tea or coffee. And the room looks kind of messy, and looks like a poor persons home. You can also see an ashtray in the corner on the picture. There is not much things to see on this picture."

"This man would have been fired for alittle long time now. And he is looking for a job to keep his home. If he do not get a job and do not pay the rent that he is supposed to pay will he get kicked out from the house. And he will be homeless and he can not be able to buy food and clothes. But he will get a job if he is lucky, and get a normal life again. The reason why he got fired could be is that he did not come to the time, that he is supposed to come, or it could be that he didn't do anything at the job. And he could have just quit the job not even looking for a job that he would work on when he had quitted the job. And he thinks that it is hard to find a job and he regret quitting the job a lot. And maybe is the photographer with some people that interviews people. And this is where he is being interviewed and being photographed, while trying to find a good job for him."
